

The Leopard Life

November 10th, 2018

The Eighth Grade Game Stretch

The game was neck and neck, both teams fighting for victory knowing that only one could win. It was the last game of the season it was just the 8th grade. White against blue. The teams were fierce, but only one would come out on top. Both teams had suffered injuries, But they still had good teams. The blue team had a good team and a really good line and so did the white. The blue team was victorious so why don't you focus on them. The had D. as center, G. as right guard, K. for right tackle, and for the opposite side they had J. , and J. The game was back and forth each side scoring but eventually the time ran out he score 14 to 12. Afterwards, they went to the home locker room and celebrated because next year they would become leopards.

Car Door Breaking Roary

On November 4, 2018 K. and her family were at the Walmart parking lot getting out of the car to go in the store then her sister wanted to get her phone out of the car. When she tried to shut it it would not shut she tried to put pressure on it but it kept on bending a piece of the car. K's grandma went into the store and she waited outside, that is when her mom saw someone and asked for his help to shut the car door. He tried to push the door shut but it wasn't going anywhere. Finally he found out what had happened after he got his tools. He said that there was a spring that got bent and something broke off. So he took the spring out and handed it to her mom. Then her mom gave him $10 for helping her out and he showed her grandma and her mom how to shut if there was an emergency if it opened. So he told her to push down and slam the door to make sure it was all the way in.

Halloween Dance Wise

On October 31st, 2018 took place a halloween dance in the Louisville Middle School. The night was awesome with students and teachers dancing, jumping, and singing. There were all kinds of foods to choose from like pizza, nachos, chips, candy, cookies, and a lot more. Most of the night the students were in the gym where the DJ was playing loud music. The kids were wearing all different kind of costumes from onsies, to being cheerleaders, to being characters from the purge. At the end of that evening everyone was tired but this, for sure was a night to remember.

The Halloween Tragedy

Luke

On Oct/31/18 this years halloween boy steals all the candy in canal fulton when he went trick or treat with members of his family. This year halloween was fun for the entire family until a boy from another town came in and stole the show with his costume that did not have poor effort and or tennis shoes, jeans, and a coat on. Many families felt like he had the better costume give the boy lots of candy and even enjoying a laugh or two with him. The boy then started going to other parts of the small town taking more candy leaving many kids candly-less. Most kids had to evacuate to other parts of town were the boy would sometimes go and get even more candy. But at 8pm the boy had to leave and most homes were out of candy so they had to end halloween in advance just because the boy took loads of candy. This is truly a halloween tragedy.

Need A Tutor?

Hey! Do you need a tutor? Well, do I have a deal for you! Louisville High School can hook you up with a tutor for a low price! Just go to the main office, and ask them if they have any available!

Paint A Picture

Mystic

When the Louisville Middle School had the D.C. trip the people who did not go stayed at school and done fun activities for the 3 days they were gone. But I fo have a favorite activity we did. Which was the gym activity. We played paint a picture, it's where the teachers say a certain time and you and ur group act it out so for example, if they said "black friday" you would make a picture that looks like a "black friday" people would look like they are taking shoes and hitting each other. I find that game the funnest game we played because we were also in the gym and not in a classroom and we stayed there till the end of the day. We were in teams with different people everyday.

Shoe Drama

Fetch

In October of 2018, at Louisville Middle School, the eighth grade students have started to switch shoes during class. While most teachers do not notice, the students around them surely take notice of the scheme going on. They get distracted by the other kids hiding this from the teachers in fear of getting yelled at. Teachers jobs are hard enough with chatty teenagers who don't like to pay attention, and adding this on top of that is not helping. This is all happening because the school is being less strict, and eased up on the dress code slightly. What the kids call 'Slides' are now allowed, causing kids to switch shoes and not pay attention. It makes you question, should Louisville change the dress code back to being super strict, or will the kids straighten up to have the privilege of wearing comfy shoes?

Movies coming out in November 2018

The Grinch- November 9th
Mary Poppins
Returns-December 19th
Ralph breaks the internet-November 21st
First Man-October 12th
Crazy Rich Asians-December
15th

Movies 10 Sly

Yesterday at Movies 10 J. went to see the new, Incredibles 2. She sat in the front row and it was in 3D. J. gave a very good review on it and says everyone should go see it. But there was a very big conflict for J., there was a new born baby sitting right next to her and it was crying the whole time!!! She said that even if it wasn't crying it still would have been the same movie. She said there was some very important parts that gave good details. When the movie was still playing she had to go to the bathroom. So she got up and went and when she came back everyone was laughing and she missed a part. After the end of the movie she threw her trash and took the last sip of her drink and walked out and hoped that another good movie would come out just like Incredibles 2.