

<h1>Leopard Lines</h1>		Friday November 9th 2018	LMS Band Fruit, Cheese, and Sausage Sale! The sale is for the band students disney trip next year, all proceeds go to the band boosters to help for the trip Orders Due Friday November 16th
Soccer practice by: Pumbaa	Stark State by: Dory	Girls basketball by: Captain Hook	College Cross Country by: Tiana
M. was at soccer practice and the entire team was fighting over spots that they wanted to play for the scrimmage. All of M.'s teammates fought until the coach decided to make up a solution. His solution was to all agree on one thing. M.'s team all decided that they were gonna vote for people and whoever got the most votes for the position they would get that spot. We all fought over and over again because my teammates didn't think that it was fair to vote for people because they thought it was dumb and not a good idea and that it wouldn't solve a thing. So M.'s teammates all decided to just pick spots and whoever didn't get a spot would just rotate out on what spot we wanted. M.'s teammates said ya that's ok but then it became a entire mess when we all got out onto the field because everyone was in the wrong spot and everyone was fighting so M.'s coach decided to go back to our practice field. The entire team walked back to the practice field and the coach yelled at us to sit down.	On Friday, November 2nd 2018, a group of Louisville Middle School students went to Stark State College to learn and explore careers. First, they saw a motivational speaker who explained to the students about a few of the programs they offer at Stark State. Then they learned about branding and about your look and appearance and that first impressions are important. Than, they took a tour around the campus and saw some programs they offer. The tour guide explained that they have a two year vet tech program which made a student who wants to be a vet tech very happy. Then they learned about communication and all different types and ways to communicate. Last, they saw a motivational video that showed everyone should always be included not excluded. Once they went back to Louisville Middle School they realized that the field trip was a great experience to explore with careers. That was the end to their amazing field trip adventure.	A few weeks ago at Louisville Middle School coach Chad Weaver held girls basketball tryouts on Friday and Saturday for the 2018-2019 basketball season. Tryouts were two days long and then real practice started. The girls basketball team has practice five to six days a week. Workouts like running the pyramid, x-out layups, and two minute layup drill, and shooting foul shots are done at the practice daily. The 8th grade team scrimmages the 7th grade team once or twice a week so they can endure the sprinting during games. The 7th grade team beat the 8th grade team this first day they scrimmaged then when 8th grade put the press in and the 7th graders could not stop them. The 8th grade team will have their first real scrimmage against another school (Minerva) on Saturday, November 17th at Minerva Middle School at 12 pm.	On November 3rd, Walsh University held a cross country meet at Malone High School. It consists of 17 teams running 5 miles around a course. The teams come from neighboring states and all around Ohio. Walsh couldn't hold at their campus because of lack of parking. They instead opted to hold it at the Malone high school that can hold 750 cars. The expected attendance for a college cross country meet is from 1000-15000 depending on the meet and the importance of it. For example, A state meet can expect around 7500 people and a national meet anywhere from 7500 to 15000. There was 102 girls running and 177 boys running. There are dangers to running. The boys are very competitive. They will push and shove. Also, If you don't warm up properly, you can hurt yourself. Many people get hurt at the beginning. You have a 1/50 chance to get spiked by other runners at the start of the race!

Veterans day at LMS

by: Mike Wazowski

On November 2, 2018, Louisville Middle School held a Veterans day assembly. It was set up by Mr. Aljancic. Students in 6-8 went around every 45 minutes to different classrooms, to learn about the Veterans experiences in the military. Some classes started in the auditorium, while other classes went outside. They learned about what the veterans did, and as well of what injuries the veterans experienced. They also learned about the weapons used during every war and what year they stopped using them. They taught them about the trucks they used. At the end of the day the 8th graders went into the auditorium. The choir stood up and sang songs about America. Mr. Aljancic asked veterans to come up by decades. First, was 2010's. Second, was the 2000's. Next was 1990's. Some kids said they were gratified for the time the veterans spent fighting for our freedom. The assembly was all about veterans and at the end, some kids went up and shook hands of the veterans.

Basketball at LES

by: Wall-E

On November 5, a group of friends like usual went to LES with about 20 people. Some of the people that were there wanted to play 5v5 and we did. The students all put in 10 dollars each, and agreed and said ok. On Sunday, they went to the store and got waters for everyone. When they got there the other team had 3 big guys and 2 point guards so they were kinda scared. Although it wasn't that bad because they had pretty good players as well. While they were warming up one friend A. tried to dunk and he fell on his shin. So now they had a really good player from the other team, And they had to get a new player that wasn't that good. So now they have even more of a disadvantage. When everyone was done warming up we started the game. Even though they had a disadvantage they won.